Our solutions automate daily routines documenting temperatures and humidity. Quality personnel are easily spending 15 minutes every day logging temperatures, weekly to store data and follow up on deviations and yearly to maintain calibrations.

Convenience at your finger tips

With the touch of a button or the command of your voice, you can control your environment with the convenience of wherever you may be. Start your coffee machine on your drive home. Turn on/off your lights while on holiday. Relax in the comfort of your chair and turn your living room into a movie theater. We customise all automation to your needs. The products are modular allowing to start with the basics and grow accordingly.

How do we ensure service delivery excellence?

- Our methods and our insights are based upon the most recent innovations and technologies.
- We strive to remain reliable, responsive and relevant.
